

From my experience I learned more about the fields of engineering how to prepare for college and how to develop my self better as a leader, student, and professional. This trip also gave kind of a vibe how college is attending the workshops and then going back to the hotel being in an environment filled with college students. I got to meet and network with a lot of important people. I met kids from all over the country that want to be an engineer or wants to make something of them in life with an education. Other than engineering I experienced my first time flying and my first time to Florida.

My favorite event on the trip was when I went to the “Ordinary to Extraordinary” workshop by Dr. Sharnnia Artis. I really liked the workshop because it was kind of like a reality check because she basically presented every thing that my mom tells me but I guess it was a lot more accurate and motivating coming from a woman with her Ph. D.

Attending the PCI NSBE conference in Orlando opened up my door of opportunity, it also opened up my eyes to realize that the road to success isn't far from me it all just relies on what I consider success. I am very thankful for the opportunity so I would especially like to thank my sponsor, Ashley, Justin, Vaun, and NSBE for everything. Now that I have had the experience I plan to attend the PCI NSBE chapter next year in Vegas.
